THE HOME:
A renovated
property in Crieff

This renovation project has transformed how the owners use and enjoy their home.

When they first met with Braco Designs it was with the brief of creating two bathrooms, one master and one for their daughter.

The previous master bathroom was small with no space for a bath and no resemblance to the rest of the house. The house had seven bedrooms so designer Lee Collins persuaded them to knock through from the master bedroom and created a walkthrough wardrobe space, complete with bespoke shoe storage, that led into a beautifully proportioned bathroom.

This refurbishment meant that the new bathroom not only had space to house a bath but one that could sit in front of the room's large window, taking in the stunning views surrounding the property.

In addition to the stunning freestanding, claw foot bath the room also boasts twin sinks and a wet-room style shower. Braco sourced all the sanitaryware from Drummonds and all the fittings have a grand feel to them that works perfectly with the character and style of the house.

Placing the shower and sinks on a raised tiled platform gives the room a more spacious feel and storage has been discreetly concealed behind the two mirrors for a clean finish.

Commenting on the design Lee said: "The view and the scale/proportions of the room were what really stood out so we wanted a scheme that would show them off.

"This is a beautiful home so we wanted to create a bathroom that was in keeping with the rest of the property. The choice of Drummonds' sanitaryware, marble and wood panelling really helps to add some character back into the room."

"The view and the scale/proportions of the room really stood out so we tried to work round this and added all wood panelling to add back some character. Concealing storage behind mirrors allowed us to fit a stunning double marble Arabascato sink on a stand to give it a clean look. All the fittings from Drummonds of London sourced by Braco designs have a grand feel to them complementing the room size."
